MODERN GUITAR
meets FLAMENCO

CONCERT SERIES

GUITAR NIGHT – PRESS KIT

MODERN GUITAR MEETS FLAMENCO

Two worlds, two styles, one musical language.

Guitar Night is a concert project of guitarist Peter Luha and flamenco virtuoso Flaco de Nerja, combining modern guitar, looping, virtuosity and authentic flamenco in one energetic evening. It is a meeting of two worlds, two styles and two personalities that naturally complement each other on one stage.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

MODERN GUITAR MEETS FLAMENCO ON THE STAGE

Guitar Night was created as a shared vision to bring two musical worlds onto one stage – modern concert guitar with elements of fingerstyle, percussive playing and slap technique, and authentic Spanish flamenco shaped by many years of tradition.

Peter Luha contributes modern original compositions, technical precision and virtuosity, creative work with a looper and original arrangements of well-known classical pieces.

Flaco de Nerja represents an authentic flamenco world shaped by his time in Andalusia, long-standing contact with the local scene and performances in Spain, Austria and Germany. His repertoire consists mainly of his own compositions, in which he blends traditional flamenco roots with his personal melodic voice.

Together they create a live show that is colorful, dynamic and technically brilliant, yet still accessible to a wide audience.

WHO STANDS BEHIND GUITAR NIGHT

FLACO DE NERJA – FLAMENCO GUITAR VIRTUOSO

Authentic Andalusian fire – in Slovak hands.

Flaco de Nerja is a Slovak flamenco guitarist based in Vienna. His stage name comes from the Andalusian town of Nerja, which strongly influenced his musical direction and artistic path.

His style has been shaped by long-term contact with the authentic flamenco environment, studies with acclaimed Spanish musicians and regular performances in Spain, Austria and Germany. In his music he combines traditional compás, technical precision and a highly personal melodic language.

On stage he mainly performs his own compositions, where Andalusian inspiration meets his distinctive musical expression. He is known for playing passionately, intensely and sincerely – creating an atmosphere that draws in even listeners who have never heard flamenco before. Alongside performing he also teaches guitar in Vienna.

PETER LUHA – MODERN GUITAR & LOOP ARTIST

A virtuoso with his own guitar universe.

Peter Luha is one of the most distinctive Slovak guitarists with a strong international reach. His playing combines modern technique, virtuosity, creativity and emotion – from solo guitar to complex looped compositions built live on stage.

His music blends fingerstyle, percussive playing, slap technique, classical influences and modern arrangements. Peter has played more than 2,500 concerts across Europe, the USA, Mexico and India, has worked with artists such as Igudesman & Joo and the Vienna Symphony Orchestra, and his solo album Viaje del Alma was nominated for the Independent Music Awards in the USA.

He is known for his innovative arrangements of classical pieces and a captivating stage presence. Every concert is a new story for him.

CONCERT CONCERT PROGRAM

Guitar Night is structured as a three-part evening:

MODERN GUITAR – PETER LUHA

A selection of solo guitar original compositions, virtuoso arrangements of classical pieces (for example Tico Tico, Turkish March, Csárdás, Flight of the Bumblebee) and loop-based compositions.

AUTHENTIC FLAMENCO – FLACO DE NERJA

Passionate, rhythmic and technically brilliant flamenco in its original form, based mainly on his original compositions, full of Andalusian compás and typical duende.

JOINT SET

The evening culminates in duo performances – from iconic pieces such as Spain (Chick Corea) or Río Ancho / Entre dos aguas (Paco de Lucía) to flamenco fusion and improvisations prepared specifically for the Guitar Night series.

Every concert is unique. No two nights are the same.
